Canada Day weekend exciting and busy

Elk Point has celebrated another successful and enjoyable Canada Day weekend in great style, with good attendance at all events and many out of town visitors on hand.

Canada Day started off very early for the Chamber of Commerce Pancake Breakfast crew, who were already setting up seating and firing up the grills by 7 a.m. By the time the last flapjack was flipped around 11 a.m., approximately 750 hungry visitors had been treated to pancakes, sausage, juice or coffee, along with musical entertainment by Kyle Jones and Reg Ault.

Face painting for the younger set got underway around 9 a.m. and was still going strong after the parade, thanks to a group of volunteer artists who decorated a long line of children in front of Northbound 41.

Many of those youngsters were among the close to 50 cyclists who rode festively and imaginatively decorated bicycles, wagons etc. just ahead of the parade. Several cheerful clowns rode along to keep the youngsters on route.

The Lions Club Parade was excellent this year, with approximately 50 entries delighting hordes of viewers lining the route. Winners were: Horses and Riders: 1. Silver Spur Game Ranch, Don Mudryk with his miniature horses and covered wagon; 2. Roy Scott and Marjorie Robinson, with a full-sized version; 3. Ruth Purdy, in angora chaps and cowboy gear, and daughter Jaylene in Arabian costume.

Children's Clubs and Organizations: 1. Girl Guides, with a colorful canoe and camping theme; 2. Elk Point 4-H MultiClub, with a 'prize bull,' bunnies and smiling youngsters; 3. Elk Point Skating Club, with many of its members on board in their skating costumes.

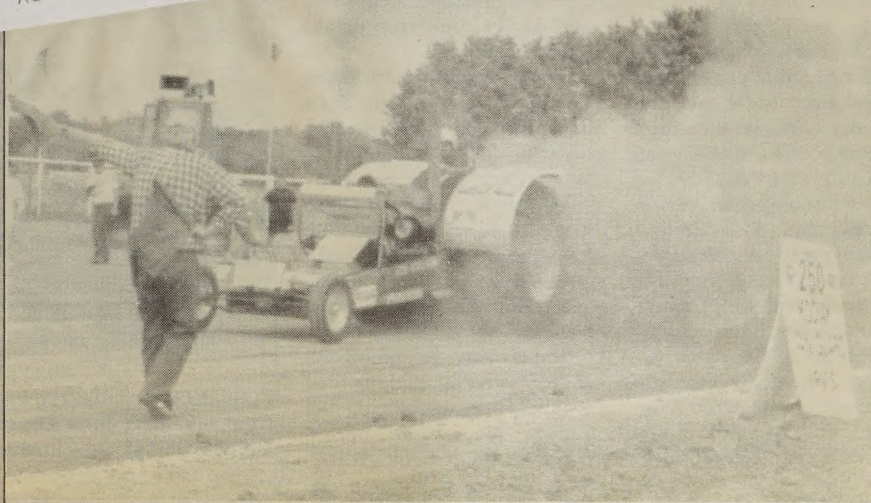

Adult Clubs and Organizations: 1. Christian Community Church, with a tiny bride and groom in a bell-topped chapel; 2. Elk Point BPOE and OORP Lodges, a vision in purple and white; and 3. Pioneer Circle, with a nostalgic look at the World War II years.

Canada Day Theme - "We Remember": 1. Elk Point Royal Canadian Legion, with a number of veterans on board; 2. Joe Brunner's creative 1925 biffy/'reading room'; 3. Canada Day Committee, with maple leaves forever.

Antiques: 1. Bob Lee's 1929 DeSoto, in which he chauffeured Mayor Ed Buck and

THE VINDICATOR ROARS HOME - Tractor Pull enthusiast Bill Cole of Bonnyville delighted PowerPull fans as he charged down the strip with "The Vindicator" belching black smoke and churning up the dust to win Sunday's Super Modified Tractors class. The massive V-12 Detroit Diesel powered tractor also was a big hit in Saturday's Canada Day Parade, as were several other PowerPull contestants which were a great addition to the annual event.

Truck and tractor pull a roaring success

Elk Point and District Lions Club is really roaring with pride over the success of their first ever Truck and Tractor Pull, which added a new and exciting attraction to the Canada Day weekend lineup.

And the Lions aren't all that was roaring. PowerPull '95 featured four modified 4x4 trucks, four modified 2 wheel drive trucks and four super modified tractors in action, as well as four micro-mini tractors operated by a new generation of pulling drivers.

Between 600 and 700 spectators filled the stands Saturday night, and another enthusiastic crowd was on hand Sunday afternoon to cheer on the competitors.

Saturday's Modified 4x4 pull was won by Gordon Chiliak of Alsask, Saskatchewan, whose "Twisten Steel" is a 1990 Chevy powered by a 8.3 litre Oldsmobile motor. Sunday it was Al Christensen's "Plumb Crazy," a 1947 GMC with a 520 cubic inch Chevy motor under the hood. Home Town Grocers and Footprints Subs and Arcade sponsored Saturday's event, while Hillside Service was the Sunday sponsor.

But the 4x4s are nowhere near as exciting as the Modified 2 Wheel Drives, which heave their front wheels into the air when the going gets tough. Adrian Hunter of Medicine Hat calls his Ford "The Hunter" and this weekend he bagged a win and a tie, as one of the two machines to pull the weight sled right past the 275 foot finish line. Sunday's tie was with Al Christensen's "Dr. Hook," a 1972 Chevy El Camino with a big block Chevy motor. Hahn Welding and Oilfield Services Ltd. and B & R Eckels sponsored the Saturday competition, with BMW Monarch as the Sunday sponsors.

The Super Modified Tractors are also likely to rear up and dig in for the long haul. Wes Scott of Wetaskiwin took Saturday's win with "Thunder Road," which was powered by a World War II aircraft engine, but was left back in the dust Sunday by Bill Cole's "Vindicator" from Bonnyville, which is powered by a V-12 Detroit Diesel motor with twin turbos. Lakeland Tire and Capitol Drugs sponsored Saturday's run and Valley Fertilizer and United Grain Growers were the Sunday sponsors.

It takes a lot of methanol and a lot of expense money to take these machines out on the circuit, grandsons; 2. Anton Zarowny's antique tractor, driven by Archie Poleschuk; 3. Zarowny Motors' Mustang convertible, which carried MLA Paul Langevin and Mrs. Langevin.

Commercial: 1. In Days of Olde, with a decorated '50s vintage truck; 2. Bumper to Bumper, with a flower-laden tow truck; 3. Footprints, Edsel car.

Industrial: 1. E-Can Oilfield Services with possibly the largest entry in the parade; 2. Shamrock Valley Enterprises, hauling both a Cat and a quad; 3. Kudu Industries, with Al McLeod's convertible.

Individual Free Style: 1. Elmer Van Riper, saluting the Flintstones; 2. Emily McDonald with her Huskies.

After a very brief lull, action moved up to the A. G. Ross Arena, where the Operating Committee were serving up a tasty barbecued beef dinner, and where the afternoon activities were taking place. Crackers the Clown charmed the children with her very speedily created balloon animals, including a dog which with two movements transformed into a giraffe.

The stage entertainment opened with O Canada sung by Travis Pankiw as the Royal Canadian Legion color party brought in the flags of Canada, Alberta and the Legion. Greetings from the Province were brought by MLA Paul Langevin, while Mayor Ed Buck brought Canada Day wishes from Town Council.

The entertainment ranged from the bluegrass and oldtime country music of Kyle Jones and Reg Ault, who brought forth such old favorites as the Orange Blossom Special and Cripple Creek from their guitars, fiddle and banjo, to Elk Point's Travis Pankiw and Heinsburg's Daleen Gunderson and Angie Durocher with contemporary country songs like "When You Say Nothing At All" (Travis), "What Made You Say That" (Daleen) and "Five Minutes" (Angie).

A number of people visited the Horizon Room to hear the western wit and wisdom of local cowboy poet, "Old Jake" (aka John Drobot).

The Elk Point OORP served up an enormous Canada Day birthday cake to wrap up the afternoon.

The Arena Operating Committee made their draw for a $1000 bill at that time also, with the lucky winner being Ed Lovell of Vermilion.

Canada Day continued with the first half of the Lions Club Invitational PowerPull, a well-attended beerfest and dance, and a fantastic fireworks display.

Sunday saw the completion of the PowerPull, and the final event of the weekend, the Canada Day Gospel Concert. Watch for Gospel Concert coverage next week.

HUNTING DOWN A WIN - The Hunter, owned and operated by Adrian Hunter of Medicine Hat, won Saturday's Modified 2WD Trucks competition and tied with Al Christensen's "Dr. Hook" for Sunday's win.

and each has several long-term sponsors. In Elk Point, they added some local sponsors to this list, with twelve businesses each sponsoring a vehicle: Kudu Industries Inc., Jorvik Machine Tool and Welding, Empress Family Restaurant, Alberta Wheat Pool, Zarowny Motors, Tarsands Steam Cleaning, Tags Food and Gas, Elk Point Auto and Industrial Supply, Larry's Picker Service, CJ Petroleum, Lakeland Implements and BJ Trucking. Shamrock Valley Enterprises supplied the track grooming equipment, and Elk Point Scouting Association directed traffic in the parking lot and sold much-needed earplugs.

Tulliby Lake and district will launch their newly printed history book, "Trails North of the Saskatchewan" at their Homecoming Weekend, slated for July 14 to 16.

The two-volume history book contains close to 500 family histories and almost 1400 pictures, plus four large removable maps and a detailed map key. Each chapter has its own index, in addition to the general index, for ease of finding information. The first portion of the book deals with the history of the area, the 1885 uprising, and a brief history of the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan. Another interesting part is the 'memories' chapter, which tells about early-day activities such as gopher hunting and attending the small rural school.

Margaret Nelson, who worked on the book for two years, said "when we started, we had no idea it would be so big." It was not until the material was sent to the printers that the history book committee found out it would require two volumes - almost 1200 pages - to contain it all.

A 6 by 8 foot wall map of the area, showing historic trails, names of homesteaders and much more, was created in conjunction with the book, and will be hung in the Tulliby Lake Agriplex.

Registration for the homecoming and the sale of books begins Friday evening from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., which will also be a time to meet and greet old friends. A camping area is available. Sorry, no hook-ups.

Saturday's lineup consists of a parade at 10 a.m., outdoor activities such as ball games, races and horseshoes in the afternoon, and a banquet and program at 6:00 p.m. with MP Deborah Grey as guest speaker, followed by a dance. The activities will all take place in Sergeant Hall Park, which was named after a Royal Canadian Mounted Police officer who worked in the district from 1896 to 1910.

On Sunday, the weekend will wrap up with a pancake breakfast, gospel singers and final farewells. History books and souvenir pins will be available throughout the weekend.

Have you seen our museum?

Steve Andrishak, curator of the Pioneer Museum in Elk Point, informs us that since 1952, when he first opened the museum, thousands of visitors have left their names in three of his completed large guest books.

Names of visitors include those from 33 different countries of the world, people from 29 American states, as well as visitors from every province in Canada, including Newfoundland, the Yukon and the North West Territories.

Visitors from as far away as Japan, India, Jamaica, Russia, Hong Kong, Australia, New Zealand, Brazil, Ghana and South Africa have visited the museum.

Some of the more distinguished visitors were Grant

McEwan, Lieutenant Governor of Alberta, Senator Gladstone of Cardston, Alberta, Don Mazankowski, Deputy Prime Minister of Canada, Hugh Dempsey, noted historian from the Glenbow Foundation in Calgary, James G. McGregor, well known author of many Canadian fur trading books, and Jim Bond, well known American wildlife author.

Over the years, there have been many bus loads of visiting senior citizens from all parts of our province as well as numerous bus loads of school children from areas surrounding Elk Point. During the past 33 years, many local teachers have taken their classes to view the many varied exhibits which are housed in four different buildings located on Andrishak's property at 50th Avenue and Highway 41.

Apparently everyone does not have an interest in historical displays, however. Andrishak says that although many people in the province have travelled as much as 200 miles to visit this museum, others living as close as a block away are not aware that it exists.

Anyone wishing to view the museum can contact Steve by phoning 724-3654 or by taking a chance and calling at the museum. Tours are available anytime to suit you.

Great group effort

Elk Point's 1995 Canada Day celebration will go down in history as another enormous success. Elk Point is rapidly gaining a reputation as the hosts of one of the best Canada Day events in northeast Alberta, and it's no wonder.

Why would a small town like ours deserve such acclaim? Maybe it's because we provide a packed schedule for Canada Day, from breakfast in the morning to fireworks in the evening, and dancing into the wee hours, and then more to come on the balance of the weekend.

How can we, with our relatively small population, do so much more than many larger centres? (Remember the Bicentennial?) The answer is INVOLVEMENT. Everybody jumps in and does their bit, and the result is a huge festivity that everyone can enjoy.

It's virtually impossible to list everyone who is involved, but even by organizations, it's an impressive lineup. Canada Day Committee, Chamber of Commerce, Merchants Committee, Lions Club, Arena Operating Committee, Order of Royal Purple, and all the groups and organizations who were represented in the parade, each played an important role. Then there were all the businesses who were in the parade and/or who donated toward the fireworks and the PowerPull, and all the individuals who offered to help with this, that and ten thousand other details. It's an immense job, but when everyone works together, it sure adds up.

Congratulations to every volunteer who contributed in any way. You did your part in making this a most memorable and enjoyable weekend.

Canada Remembers

The British Commonwealth Air Training Plan

Canada Remembers is a program aimed at commemorating the 50th anniversaries of major events leading to the end of the Second World War and honoring those who served Canada both abroad and at home during the war years.

One of the most important Canadian contributions to the war effort was the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan (BCATP). Under an agreement signed in 1939, Canada undertook to ensure facilities and training for airmen from every part of the commonwealth. Canada was ideally suited for this program. It was far from the fighting, had numerous wide open spaces and excellent flying conditions. The BCATP was an outstanding success. By the end of the war, it had graduated 131,533 pilots, observers, flight engineers and other aircrew for the air forces of Canada, Britain, Australia and New Zealand. (While over half the BCATP graduates came from the North American continent, the Plan trained personnel from all over the world including about 2000 French, 900 Czechoslovakians, 680 Norwegians, 450 Poles and about the same number of Belgians and Dutch.)

* 72,835 graduates joined the Royal Canadian Air Force.

* 42,110 graduates joined the Royal Air Force (British).

* 9606 graduates joined the Royal Australian Air Force.

* 7002 graduates joined the Royal New Zealand Air Force.

"THE AERODROME OF DEMOCRACY"

The BCATP was an enormous undertaking. In 1939, the Royal Canadian Air Force (RCAF) had only 4000 personnel, less than a dozen airports of its own and training facilities for only 400 ground-crew per year. Now the RCAF was expected to train thousands. It had to recruit instructors, build air bases, acquire aircraft and develop training schools for different specialties. By war's end, there were 151 training schools and every province had BCATP installations. Canada was, in U. S. President Roosevelt's words, "the aerodrome of democracy."

* During its operation, the BCATP required 3540 aircraft, 33,000 air force personnel and 6000 civilian workers.

* The government built 7000 hangars, barracks and drill halls for the air bases and training schools.

* Most training schools had three runways, each 100 feet wide and 2500 feet long. Enough concrete was used in creating the runways to build a 20-foot wide highway from Ottawa to Vancouver.

* Under the original agreement to establish the BCATP, Britain was to pay $218 million, Canada $313 million, Australia $97 million and New Zealand $21 million. Costs, however, escalated beyond the 1939 estimates. In the end, Canada paid $1.6 billion of a total cost of $2.2 billion. In today's money, that means that every taxpayer living in Canada paid over $3000 just for the Plan.

RIGOROUS TRAINING

Training for the BCATP was challenging and rigorous. Pilots, wireless operators, air gunners, air observers and flight engineers went through months of training at specialized schools.

* The training for pilots-to-be was the longest and most difficult. From Initial Training School, they went to Elementary Flying Training School, where they got their first chance to fly, followed by Service Flying Training Schools where they were separated into fighter and bomber pilots. From there they went into Advance Flying and Operational Training Units before going overseas.

* Of the Canadians trained in the BCATP, 25,747 would become pilots; 12,855, navigators; 6659, air bombers; 12,744, wireless operators; 12,917, air gunners; and 1913 flight engineers.

* Training could also be hazardous - 856 trainees died in crashes during BCATP's five years of operation. As high as these figures may seem, it was to the credit of the Plan that, by 1944, only one fatal accident was being recorded for each 22,388 hours of flying time.

EVERYONE PITCHES IN

Civilians played an important role in the BCATP, providing instructors for training schools and community support for fliers who were far away from home.

* Bush and commercial pilots joined as instructors working side-by-side with military personnel.

* In the beginning, the government entrusted Canadian flying clubs with the organization and operation of the Elementary Flying Training Schools. Many of their members had served in the First World War and provided an immediate source of skilled manpower.

* Civilian instructors in Elementary Flying Training Schools emphasized safety, working under the maxim "There are Old Pilots and Bold Pilots, There are No Old, Bold Pilots."

* Some flying clubs paid for the entire cost of a training school using private funds or community donations. In Vancouver, citizens paid for 14 training aircraft out of their own pockets.

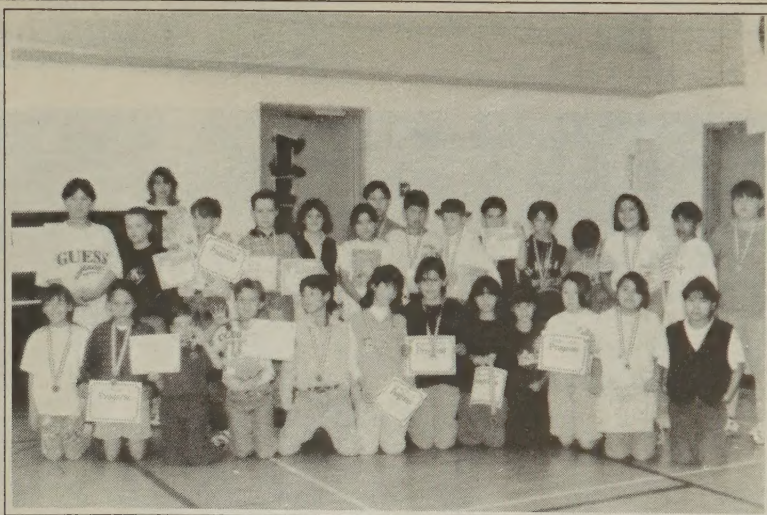

* Women's organizations ran canteens, sports organizations supplied athletic equipment, and service clubs provided items like pianos for barracks halls.

* Many people invited trainees into their own homes for meals as a patriotic gesture and as a part of their involvement in the war effort.

Assessment appeals fee levied

The Town of Elk Point has decided that assessment appeals will no longer be free of charge. Under the new Municipal Government Act, municipalities are now permitted to levy a fee for this service. Those disagreeing with their assessment will be asked to pay $50 for residential and $100 for commercial or industrial reassessments, with these fees refunded if the appellant is successful and the assessment is changed.

Two 52 St. residents visited Council to inquire about a proposed paving overlay and to discuss the possibility of new sidewalks. They were told that no decisions had been made due to the late finalization of the budget, and that the Town is currently exploring several options, which they were hoping to do at no extra cost to the ratepayers.

Dust problems in the Industrial area were discussed, with Public Works requested to make recommendations regarding this matter.

Kalyna Country Society enjoys successful year

By Jars Balan

The Kalyna Country Ecomuseum Trust Society has taken considerable strides in implementing its long term development strategy for rural east central Alberta. The voluntary group is holding its Annual General Meeting at 7 p.m. on July 11 at the Ukrainian Cultural Heritage Village to review the past year's undertakings and to make plans for 1995-96.

Recently awarded charitable status by Revenue Canada, the non-profit association is now in a position to more effectively pursue financing for its various endeavors. During the previous year, the organization launched its educational program (with help from the Canadian Institute of Ukrainian Studies) by hosting four well-attended lectures in Vilna, Smoky Lake, Thorhild and Vegreville. A similar series of public talks are to be arranged for this fall and winter.

In the realm of historical conservation work, this summer Kalyna Country will be completing an interpretive project along the north Victoria Trail from near Redwater to the Victoria Settlement. The preparation of a driving tour and the installation of signage is being partly funded by the Alberta Historical Resource Foundation.

The society has also begun to actively promote public awareness of the Kalyna Country region to residents of Alberta and visitors from out of province. For the second year, Kalyna Country sponsored a booth at the Edmonton Home and Garden Show, financed through the participation of more than two dozen area partners, and with technical assistance from PFRA and Alberta Agriculture. In May, the same display was featured at the Alberta Visitor Information Booth in Lloydminster, raising considerable interest with travellers along the Yellowhead Highway.

The society has also published its first informational pamphlets, the most notable being a 4-color lure brochure detailing ecomuseum attractions. A second pamphlet, entitled The Versatile Kalyna, describes the many names and uses of the highbush cranberry that is the symbol of the ecomuseum. Other publications planned for the future will cover such topics as Wildlife Viewing and Natural Areas within Kalyna Country.

In the coming year, the Trust is hoping to establish a full-time office to more vigorously begin developing the heritage district's potential for expanded cultural tourism.

Membership in the society is open to residents of east central Alberta who are invited to contribute their ideas for ecomuseum projects. For more information, write: Kalyna Country Ecomuseum, c/o General Delivery, Lamont, AB, T0B 2R0.

What's news at the library?

Young readers heading for South America

By Michele Ducek
Librarian

For the second week of READ AROUND THE WORLD we will be travelling down south to South America. Load up your llamas and come on down to the library.

A group of wonderful picture books have arrived at the library.

Frank's collection of stuffed bears has grown to ridiculous size in Too Many Teddies by Gus Clarke. His solution is unusual and delightful.

When Zoe can't sleep she tries to count sheep. But the sheep aren't behaving in Zoe's Sheep by Rose Bursik.

The little princess learns manners in I Want My Dinner

by Tony Ross. She also teaches others manners.

A little girl explores all the reasons she loves her mother's bed in Mama's Bed by Jo Ellen Bogart with beautiful illustrations by Sylvie Daignault. Read this one with your mother.

A little boy notices the animals at the zoo look kind of bored so he invites them to his home in I Went To The Zoo by Rita Golden Gelman and illustrator Maryann Kovalski.

There are clocks hidden in every painting in Hickory, Dickory, Dock by Robin Muller and Suzanne Durand. The fun is finding them all before the clock strikes twelve.

There is a poem for every letter of the alphabet in Alpha

Beta Chowder by Jeanne Steig. I especially liked "Blizzard Zaps Zelda."

The latest Stephen King is here! Rose Maddier is the tale of a woman who escapes from a nightmare marriage... or does she?

Di and I by Peter Lefcourt is a comic novel that has Princess Di falling in love with Leonard Schecter, an American with a taste for leggy blondes and epic poetry.

Dirt Cheap Gardening by Rhonda Massingham is filled with tips and suggestions on how to create a great-looking garden without robbing a bank to pay for it.

Borderlines by Roger Sauve explores the differences and similarities between Canadians and our neighbors to the south. Fascinating information.

LIBRARY CALENDAR:

Tuesday and Thursday Mornings, 10:30 a.m. - noon - Read Around the World Summer Reading Program.

We love and miss you.

Nothing can be more beautiful than the memory we have of you. To us you were someone special. And God must have thought so too.

Sadly missed by his loving mother, dad, Rusty, Lynn, Muranda, Sharon, Thomas and Tara-Lynn.
